ACCELERATOR GRANTING PROGRAM

BrainsCAN's Accelerator Internal Granting Program is designed to push the limits of cognitive neuroscience and transform its landscape by supporting high-risk/high-reward research programs that could not be funded through traditional channels.

The Accelerator Program enables researchers to develop research programs to raise the calibre of Western neuroscience to the highest international level, radically transform our understanding of the brain, significantly reduce the impact of cognitive disorders, and influence clinical practice and public policy through top-quality evidence.
